Considering a lifetime gift to the United States National Rifle Team?

You can do this by one of the following methods:

- 1) Designating the USNRT as a Beneficiary. Properly designated gifts of investment accounts can bypass probate, avoid taxation, and reduce the size of your taxable estate. To make this gift, call your financial advisor and ask for a change of beneficiary form.
- 2) Make a Bequest Gift to the USNRT.

To make your bequest, you'll need a will or trust. An attorney in your state of residence can assist in writing the proper documents that protect you and your assets. Below is suggested language that is frequently used in wills or trust, however, it is not legal advice.

Step A: Decide What You Want to Give The following is suggested language for your legal professional to integrate into your will or trust. The type of gift you want to give will determine the correct paragraph to choose. For instance, if you want to leave a percentage (%) of your entire estate, known as a "residuary bequest". Alternatively, if you know that you want to leave a specific dollar amount, you will make a "specific bequest".

Sample language –

Residuary Bequest: All [or state a ____%] of the rest, residue, and remainder of my property, both real and _____ personal and wheresoever situated, I give, devise, and bequeath to the United States National Rifle Team, for its general purposes as shall be determined by its Board _____ of Directors.

Specific Bequest: I give, devise, and bequeath to the United States National Rifle Tea the sum of $ _____ (or here otherwise describe the gift) for its general purposes as _____ shall be determined by its Board of Directors.

Step B: Meet with an Attorney Your legal professional may have other preferred text, the suggestions above are only shown as a guide.
